

This book is designed to guide the reader through easy to do projects. It is the first in a series of books I plan to write. It is a must for the beginner. Some of the tips and projects are a little bit more advanced and require some carpentry and mechanical skills. I have taken this in to my presentation. My experience as a Master ASE auto mechanic as well adult educator comes out in all my descriptions. Most of the updates and improvements can be done while in camp for extended periods without holding you up. I steer you away for the high priced RV parts sales stores. I have made every effort to direct the reader to products that can safely be use in place of the RV counterparts. Do you know that you can use lower priced toilet tissue in place of the more costly RV brands? Costco® sells a great toilet tissue that dissolves very well. We have used this for four years on a continuous basis with no problems. This book is a great gift for some of your buddies that may be greener than yourself. I have included a section on setting up a solar system. The first one I set up was a Harbor Freight® unit. It saved me over $30 a month on my electric bills. The new panels I bought and in the process of setting up, features roll-out lower weight higher output. This could be used in place of high priced, high maintenance, noisy generators. I will reveal this and much more the up coming books. The price you will pay for the tools will pay for the labor.
